this means that, comparatively, your core body temperature cools in relation to your extremities - which is what naturally happens when you drift off to sleep he is not only a distinguished theoretical economist but an original thinker at a time when what we need above all is ingenuity western nebraska grain farmers are concerned about a major leak contaminating the ogallala aquifer