is reducing the 3.1 billion euros of adjustments it had originally sketched out for next year, trying to
however, this is just down right ridiculous in my eyes and the school officials should admit their racist views instead of hiding behind some vague regulations.